NeoComm launches new website

August 29, 2005

August 29, 2005 Melbourne, VIC - NeoComm today launched its new corporate website. The new website can be found at the same URL at www.neocomm.com.au.

NeoComm began the site redesign in early 2005. At that time it was decided that the company needed a new site design to better support the growing interest from corporate and government, as well as NeoComm's growing array of security products and services. "Traditionally, we focused on information security services. We have now grown way beyond that, boasting an impressive portfolio of physical, IT and risk management security solutions." says Principal Security Consultant , Mark Sayer.

The new site offers new and existing customers more detailed and easier access to information, together with increased functionality. In addition, this site also incorporates a number of case studies that will allow people to learn more about some of NeoComm's success stories.
